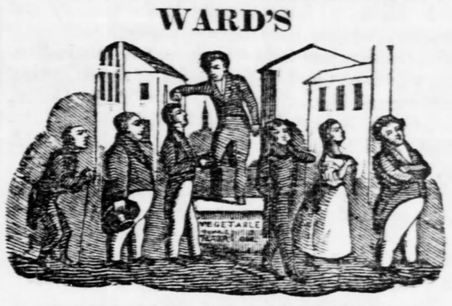
WARD'S



VEGETABLE HAIR OIL.

IN all ages of the world, a beautiful head of hair has been considered the greatest ornament ever bestowed by nature upon the human frame, and indispensably necessary to the perfection of personal beauty. It is a very general complaint of young persons, that their hair is falling off, becoming dry, or unhealthy; this may be owing to the application of improper and injurious oils, or to the entire neglect of the hair. Without proper attention, diseases of the hair will arise, which are often found to occasion thinness, falling off, and frequently total baldness. For these evils, and the necessary inconveniences attending them, Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil will be found in all cases a sure remedy. Before offering this Oil to the public it had been tried in hundreds of cases of baldness, thinness and falling off of the hair, and in every instance its salutary effects have been realized to admiration. It has never failed to produce a new and beautiful growth of hair on heads already bald, and to check that falling off which so often occurs. In cases where it becomes dry and ceases to grow, this Oil will very soon render it healthy, and produce a rapid and beautiful growth, without the least injury to the most delicate head; nor does any falling off follow after using it. That loss of hair, which so often takes place after sickness, may be easily prevented by using this celebrated Oil. In short no Oil has ever been offered to the public that gives such universal satisfaction, and stands the test of experience like Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil.

That the public may rest assured of the salutary effects of this Oil, the following testimonials, from gentlemen of high respectability, are most respectfully submitted:—

Extract of a letter from John A. Wadsworth, M. D., of the city of Providence, R. I. to W. & L. Krumbhaar & Co., of Philadelphia.

Gentlemen: Dr. Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil has gained great repute with us, having restored Hair on heads that have been bald for years, and I have no doubt it will give satisfaction wherever it may be introduced.

Very respectfully,
JOHN A. WADSWORTH.

Messrs. STANLEY & Co., of Baltimore, in writing to Mr. HUNTON, Druggist, in Washington City, say, 'That Letters to them from Druggists in Boston, describe Ward's Hair Oil as being highly approved of there, and selling with astonishing rapidity.

Extract of a letter from Harvey Seymour, Druggist, Hartford, Ct., to the Proprietor, dated Hartford, Sept. 14, 1832.

Dear Sir: I find your Hair Oil a valuable article; I was so unfortunate as to lose the Hair from the top of my head, and, from the use of about half a bottle, I find it starting out anew.

HARVEY SEYMOUR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27, 1832.

Dr. WARD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Oil, you were good enough to put into my hands when I was in Lowell, has produced the most wonderful effects on my Hair that I ever witnessed. You recollect when I called on you, my Hair had fallen very much, and I was quite bald; I have now a beautiful head of Hair, coming on very rapidly. I hardly know how to express my gratitude to you for the benefit the Oil has afforded me. A number of my friends are very anxious to obtain some of the Oil, and I wish you to send me one dozen bottles of the largest size immediately.

Yours, respectfully,
C. WOOD, M. D.

Extract of a letter from Dr. John A. Wadsworth, of Providence, to the Proprietor.

Esteemed Friend: Your Hair Oil is attended with very promising effects. One of our most respectable citizens, who had been bald for ten years, with a skin as smooth and free from hair as the palm of his hand, has been using the Oil, and fine hair is now coming out on every part of the previously bald scalp.

Yours, respectfully,
JOHN A. WADSWORTH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1, 1832.

I certify that about fifteen years ago, my hair began to fall off, and in a few years became so thin that I found it a source of great inconvenience. On seeing Ward's Vegetable Hair Oil advertised in several New York papers, and highly recommended by two medical gentlemen, with whom I was acquainted, I was induced to make trial of it. When I commenced the use of it, I very much doubted its efficacy in my case, having been bald so many years. But I had not tried it long, before I found it to possess the properties which had been attributed to it. I have now as good and healthy a head of hair as I had twenty five years ago. I can cheerfully recommend it to others who have had the misfortune to lose their hair.

G. W. CUNNINGHAM.

BOSTON, Nov 3, 1832.

Dr. WARD—Sir: A friend of mine had a bottle of your Hair Oil put into his hand, and using it a short time, the hair began to grow on his head, which was before bald, and he had tried many other remedies in vain.

Yours, respectfully,
C. E. ALLEN.

DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, AUGUST 1, 1833.

☞ Advertisements for this paper must be handed in before 9 o'clock, A. M., each day respectively, to insure their insertion.

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday last, a Mrs. M'Sheffery was riding in a dearborn, from East Liberty to Lawrenceville, and near the U. S. Arsenal, as the carriage was descending a hill, it ran against the heels of the horse, which caused him to run away, and upset the dearborn. Mrs. M'Sheffery had her neck dislocatsd by the fall, and died instantaneously—the driver was also seriously injured, and his recovery was considered doubtful.

The Connection with Lake Erie.—Our remarks, in relation to this matter, seem to have created quite an excitement along the shores of the Lake. The Erie Gazette, and the Observer too, are both out upon us, and charge us with an entire want of state pride in advocating a connection with the Lake by a rout through another state. The Cleveland Herald republishes our remarks, and approves both the spirit and the tenor of them.

We do not enter into the spirit of some of the remarks of the editor of the Cleveland paper; we would decidedly prefer a canal to Erie, if it would as certainly secure to Pennsylvania the trade of the Lakes, as we believe one to Cleveland would do. Although, therefore, we are convinced that the latter canal would be most advantageous to Pennsylvania, yet this conviction gives us no pleasure Instead of having no state pride, or state feeling (as the editor of the Erie Gazette intimates) our only doubt is, whether we have not too much. As citizens of this great Union, we should look upon every section of the country with equal favor; this, we are free to confess, we cannot do. We set up no claim to that expansive patriotism which regards, equally, Georgia and Pennsylvania. Although we do dearly love this whole Union, yet we feel that our native state has a place nearer to our heart than any other. But although we have this state feeling, very strongly, and although it would greatly incline us to prefer the canal to Erie to that to Cleveland if they were equally certain to secure the desired end, yet we cannot permit it to blind us entirely.

That a communication to the Ohio Canal, and by that to the Lake, at Cleveland, is the most advantageous and secure rout, seems to our mind so clear as to be almost beyond discussion. The editor of the Erie Gazette states that Erie has a decided advantage over Buffalo, because the former harbor is open earlier than the latter. The same reasoning would prove that Cleveland has the advantage over Erie, and there is this additional argument in favor of a communication with the Ohio canal—it will prevent, entirely, the necessity of shipping produce, transported along that canal, upon the lake, and thus avoid a double risk, the risk of loss on the lake, and the risk of diversion to Montreal or New York. If we had a canal or rail road to the Ohio canal, produce from Stark county, and other counties south of it, could be delivered at Pittsburgh sooner, at less expense, and much less risk than at Erie. Besides, even when delivered at Erie, it is farther from Pittsburgh than it was at Massillon, or at Akron. These are a few of our reasons for desiring a connection with the Ohio canal.

We now come to what we had in view, when we commenced this paragraph. We assure the editor of the Erie Gazette that we have no intention of urging the abandonment of the canal to Erie. We are decidedly in favor of its prosecution; our members, we believe, have always advocated it, and if we should possess any influence with our members hereafter, it shall, whenever necessary, be used in favor of it. If, in the hurry of writing an editorial paragraph, we have said any thing to justify the belief that we were in favor of abandoning the canal to Erie, we were very unfortunate. We trust that this declaration will put an end to this discussion, because we think that discussion, at this time, may do Erie harm, and we fear cannot do it any good.

"THE MASK OFF.—From the indications in the Pennsylvanian, of Monday last, the editors of that paper have entered the lists against the re-election of Governor Wolf, in 1835. In one respect we are glad of this. The Democratic party has no thing to fear from open enemies; if it can be overcome, it will be by the treachery of pretended friends. Hence we have the satisfaction to know to a certainty, that when the tug comes, the editors of that paper will be found in opposition to Democracy, national and state."

From the tenor of the above paragraph, from the last Harrisburgh Chronicle, we infer that its shrewd editor is aware of the schemes of Mr. Van Buren's partisans in this State, and is forced, at last, to give an unwilling utterance to his suspicions. After the second of October next, Governor Wolf will have nothing to fear from "the treachery of pretended friends"—simply because they will then be avowed and open enemies.

We have received the new bill of prices of Iron and Nails, of Miltenberger and Co., dated this day, but not in time to arrange it for this paper. It is adjusted to the new mode of selling by the ton of 2000 pounds.

Our Market has frequently been noticed as one of the steadiest and least fluctuating in the west. Some changes have, however, lately taken place. New apples are coming in; and the price has fallen to $1 a 1 25. BACON, hog round; the demand is improving, and price advanced to 5 a 5 1-2 cents. HAMS, covered, are in demand, but no change in price; covered, 9 to 10c.; uncovered, 7 1-2c. to 8 1-2c. CANDLES, mould, are advanced to 14c.; dipped, are in demand, but stand at 10c. COTTON, Alabama and Tennessee, has advanced to 14 a 15c.; Mississippi and Louisiana, 15 a 16c. SUGAR, N. O., remains at 10 a 11c. TOBACCO, Kentucky Leaf—a remarkable range exists in the price of this article: it can be had for 3c. and 6 1-2 is asked for some.

PUBLIC MEETING.

At a public meeting of the inhabitants of East Liberty and vicinity, called for the purpose of taking into consideration the expediency of establishing a literary institution in this place, Major J. M. Davis was called to the chair, and W. B. M'Ilvaine appointed secretary. The object of the meeting was then stated and discussed, at a considerable length, by the gentlemen present; whereupon it was unanimously

Resolved, That we deem it expedient and highly desirable to proceed, immediately, to establish such an institution in this place.

And that the necessary means be now taken to carry this resolution into effect.

A beautiful and eligible situation was selected, and an agreement entered into to secure the lot contemplated.—Committees were appointed to present the claims of this institution to the friends of education and improvement in the vicinity and elsewhere, as they may have opportunity.

An election was held for trustees of the institution, which resulted in the choice of the following gentlemen:—Hon. Harmar Denny, T. B. Dallas, Esq., F. G. Bailey, D. R. M'Nair, Maj. J. M. Davis, B. A. Fahnestock, D. Negly, Thos. Davidson, and A. F. Gore, Esq.

A plan for a house has been adopted, and a committee appointed to superintend the building.

A teacher has been engaged and entered on the duties of the Academy, in a convenient room in the village, until the building can be completed.

By order of the meeting.

LATE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

From the New York Commercial Advertiser.

LATER FROM FRANCE.

The packet ship Florida, Captain Moran, arrived yesterday, bringing Paris papers to the 13th, and the Journal du Havre of the 14th ultimo.—The only intelligence therefore furnished by this arrival, relates to the Continent, and even that is scanty.

In France a discovery has been made of the existence and transactions of a secret tribunal, of the most appalling description, and which seems to have been formed upon the model of the Sacred Vehme of Westphalia. It was instituted by the Italian Refugees in France, and has led to the most horrible assassinations. It serves to show that the friends of Italian freedom, like the friends of liberty every where else, are injured and discredited by weak, furious, and unprincipled partisans. It appears that the Italian Refugees in France are in depot at Rodez, a small town in the department of the Aveyron; that they are divided among themselves, and that the more violent among them have formed a Society, which, like the old German Societies, judges the conduct of those not affiliated to it, and pronounces condign punishment on such as are not disposed to plunge as deep in crime as themselves.

In the French Chamber of Deputies, June 11, the Minister of Finances brought in a bill for authorizing and regulating the means of payment of the 25,000,000 francs, admitted to be due to the United States, by a late treaty. The bill was ordered to be printed.

M. de Dampiere, bishop of Clermont, died a few days ago, in the 89th year of his age.

In the session of the Chamber, on the 10th, General Lafayette took occasion to complain of the continuance of the slave trade, even under the protection of the tri color flag.

FRANKFORT, May 31.—From a quarter worthy of entire credit, we have received the following authentic particulars, relative to the fatal affrays in Rhenish Bavaria:

"It is well known, from the public journals, that energetic measures were taken by the Bavarian authorities of the Circle of the Rhine, to prevent the repetition, this year, of such scenes as took place last year, at Hambach. These measures had their due effect, for hardly a few hundred persons visited, on the 27th, the mountain of Hambach, on which there was a military guard; but these soon went away, as being forbidden to sing the Marselloise, and, by noon, all these persons had left the mountain. In the afternoon, contrary to the prohibition that had been issued, several publicans were on the mountain; a good many persons came, and when the wine began to operate, they began again to sing the Marselloise, on which the publicans were desired to retire, and immediately obeyed the order. All the other persons then present retired with them, so that only the military guard remained on the mountain. But when the people got to the foot of the mountain, they suddenly stopped, and, with cries of 'Liberty,' sung songs, and abused the soldiers who remained on the mountain; on which, a small detachment was ordered to enjoin the people to disperse. On the approach of the soldiers, the crowd dispersed, and the soldiers turned back, and only some individuals remained, who got into a dispute with single soldiers coming down the mountain, and wounded them with knives, on which several were arrested without opposition.—Some of the soldiers, in the mean time, followed the crowd towards Mittelhambach, when they were received at the entrance of the village with musket shot, upon which the soldiers likewise fired. As soon as the firing was heard on the mountain, the civil authorities and the military commandant immediately hastened to Hambach, where the three young men who first fired, were arrested, after a desperate resistance, and the judicial investigation immediately commenced.—According to the testimony of the bystanders, the soldiers were first attacked, and did not use their arms till then. At Hambach, a man, with two children, was wounded in the thigh, and immediately received surgical aid. A gen-d'arme was wounded with a knife on the mountain: the individual guilty of this act was arrested.

"In Neustadt itself, still more horrible events took place, the same evening. The patroles were insulted and attacked, and a body of sixty or eighty persons even endeavored to seize the cannon.—This led the military to use their arms. A violent struggle ensued, and, with the assistance of the soldiers quartered at Neustadt, their patroles dispersed the crowd, so that, at 10 o'clock, all the streets were cleared. The soldiers having been provoked and insulted the whole day, were greatly agitated. A journeyman of Neustadt was killed, and between twenty and thirty persons wounded. Up to the 29th, no further interruption of public tranquillity had taken place at Neustadt, or at any other place in the Circle of the Rhine.

"P. S.—On a mountain near Hambach, a flag had been planted, but it was immediately taken down when the gen-d'armes approached the mountain; the color of the flag could not be accurately distinguished."

LONDON, June 12.—The House, last night, resolved itself into a Committee on Colonial Slavery, when the resolution, empowering Ministers to grant £20,000,000 as compensation to the West India Planters, came under consideration. This resolution was supported by Lord Althorp, Lord Sandon, Mr. Stanley, Mr. Clay, Mr. Godson, Sir R. Inglis, and Mr. Whitmore, on the ground that the sum now proposed as compensation to the Colonists would secure their co-operation in carrying the plan for the abolition of slavery into effect, which they considered to be of so much importance that the addition to the sum originally proposed was trifling in comparison to the object it would attain. Mr. Robinson, Mr. C. Buller, Mr. Pryme, Major Beauclerk, Mr. Jervis, Mr. R. Potter, Col. Evans, Mr. Pease, and Mr. A. Baring opposed the resolution, principally on the ground that the amount of compensation was greater than the West India planters had a right to require, and that, in the present condition of the country, it was inexpedient to add to the burthens of the people, which must be the result of this measure.

The resolution was adopted 286 to 77.

The next merit to that of committing an error, is to correct an error committed. Such praise is, unquestionably, due to Ministers in respect to the compensation clause of their plan of Negro Emancipation. There is a vast difference between a loan of 15 millions, and an absolute—net gift; we cannot call that a gift which is given in return for something taken away—but an absolute payment of 20 millions as a compensation for loss. We cannot suppose that there was any premeditated trickery in the first proposition of a loan; it must be considered as a lamentable error of judgment, which having been pointed out to Ministers, they have now most meritoriously corrected. As other changes in the Ministerial plans are talked of, it is not worth while to go into the details of the apprenticeship clause; we expect that the plan will at last assume the appearance of that well known pair of black cotton stockings, the holes in which were mended with white silk. It will still be the Ministerial plan; but the blunders in it being rectified by the suggestions and improvements of its opponents, it will present a very different appearance from that of its original crude, and ill considered projection.—Courier.

LONDON, June 15.—The House of Commons was still engaged on the West India Slavery Bill. The following sections of the bill had been passed:

"1. That immediate and effectual measures be taken for the entire abolition of slavery, throughout the colonies, under such provisions for regulating the condition of the negroes as may combine their welfare with the interests of the proprietors.

"2. That it is expedient that all children born after the passage of any act, or who shall be under the age of six years at the time of the passing any act of Parliament for this purpose, be declared free; subject, nevertheless, to such temporary restrictions as may be deemed necessary for their support and maintenance.

"3. That all persons, now slaves, shall be registered as apprenticed laborers; and acquire thereby all rights and privileges of freemen; subject to the restriction of laboring, under conditions and for a time to be fixed by Parliament, for their present owners.

"4. That, towards the compensation of the proprietors His Majesty is enabled to grant to them a sum not exceeding £20,000,000 sterling, to be appropriated as Parliament shall direct.

"5. That His Majesty be enabled to defray any such expense as he may incur in establishing an efficient stipendiary magistracy in the colonies, and in aiding the local Legislature in providing upon liberal and comprehensive principles for the religious and moral education of the negro population to be emancipated."

The terms proposed by ministers as those in which the character of the East India Company ought to be renewed are as follows:

1st. To separate the union which at present exist between the trading character and the sovereign character of the East India Company.

2. To abolish altogether the Company as a trading company and to throw the trade entirely open to general competition; but,

3. To allow the Company to exercise its present authority in India for twenty years.

4. To legalize the holding of lands by Europeans in the East Indies.

5. To allow the natives of India, notwithstanding their color, birth, or religion, to be equally eligible to all offices as Europeans.

A Spanish frigate, with a Rear Admiral's flag, arrived here on the 24th ult. to convey away Don Carlos and family; and the Portugeuse Princess, to Civita Vecchia, on their way to Rome; but, if report says true, Don Carlos, for his own part, has thought proper to convey himself away in some mode more congenial to his feelings, and in some direction better suited to his political objects. It is supposed that he has escaped in an English vessel, and gone secretly to some port in Spain, to play a similar part to that of the Duchess de Berri.

To night there is a report that Don Carlos is gone to pay a secret visit to Don Miguel at Braga. That he has flitted is certain.—Morning Herald.

Extract from Simpson's Life of Jefferson.

"The newspapers, in the summer of 1797, having obtained a copy of his letter to 'MAZZEI,' in which he questioned the patriotism of Washington, and accused him of the design of introducing a monarchy, Mr. Jefferson became much agitated under the severity of the public indignation, which it naturally excited, and addressed a long letter, dated the 3d of August, to Mr. Madison, asking his advice, whether he should avow the letter, and incur the hostility of 'nine-tenths of the people,' with whom Washington was popular, or remain quiet, and stand a chance of escaping the odium and detestation of its calumnious sentiments. Speaking of this subject, he observes "Now it would be impossible for me to explain this publicly, without bringing on a *personal difference between General Washington and myself, which nothing before the publication of this letter has ever done. It would embroil me also with all those with whom his character is still popular; that is to say, nine-tenths of the people of the United States, and what good would be obtained by avowing the letter, with the necessary explanations? Very little, indeed, in my opinion, to counterbalance a good deal of harm."

At a date subsequent to this, September 1, 1797, in a letter to Colonel Arthur Campbell, he repeats all the substance of his letter to Mazzei!! He here terms the party of Washington 'old tories,' who aim to bring back the government to Monarchy, and whom he stigmatises as 'treacherous emissaries.'

It is very extraordinary that Mr. Jefferson could never divest himself of a rankling envy of the fame of Washington. In a letter to Mr. Madison, dated Philadelphia, February 15, 1798, he says, 'A great ball is to be given here on the 22d, and in other great towns of the Union. This is, at least, very indelicate, and probably excites uneasy sensations in some. I see in it, however, this useful deduction, that the birth days which have been kept, have been, not those of the President, but of the General.' No, not of the general, but of the FATHER OF HIS COUNTRY. He now drew the cords of his correspondence closer with General Gates, in whose disappointed bosom rankled a congenial hatred of George Washington! In a letter to Mr. Madison, of March 2, 1798, he thus continues to vent his spleen against the savior of our country. "The late BIRTHNIGHT has certainly sown tares among the exclusive federalists. It has winnowed the grain from the chaff. The sincerely Adamites did not go. The Washingtonians went religiously, and took the secession of the others in high dudgeon.—The one sect threatens to desert the levees, the other the parties. The Whigs went in number, to encourage the idea that the birth-nights, hitherto kept, had been for the General, and not the President; and of course that time would bring an end to them. Goodhue, Sedgwick, &c. did not attend; but the three Secretaries and Attorney General did."

It must forever excite astonishment, that Mr. Jefferson's envious feelings towards Washington, should have been so powerful as to blind his sagacity to the intrinsic greatness of that incomparable man, as to lead him to believe that his celebrity was owing to birth-night balls; and that an unworthy trick of the whigs, in attending those balls, could break down the colossal genius of a man who had raised an empire from the dust and blood of a revolution of ragged soldiers, and an empty treasury! Yet such is the madness of party. Mr. Jefferson used the term 'whigs,' in contradistinction to the Washingtonians, whom he styled tories; yet the Washington whigs were the men who urged the Declaration of Independence, fought knee deep in blood to gain it, and carried into successful practice a republican constitution to secure it. Among thes,e too, ALEXANDER HAMILTON stood first, in proud pre-eminence, justly glorious.

The patriot will never cease to lament that Mr. Jefferson ever descended to the arts of the politician to secure a station which could not enhance his fame, and which has only served to embody, in historical evidence, the fallacy of all the charges which he ever adduced against his great rival; for the history of every democratic administration has been, eventually, a mere imitation of the federal policy of the father of his country!

Mr. Jefferson's letters to Mr. Madison now began to teem with exhortations to make a free and bold use of his pen in the public papers, in order to produce a favorable impression previous to the approaching elections; and to point out to him what subjects to touch with most advantage to the cause. How far Mr. Madison complied with these requests, it is not our business now to enquire.

* Mr. Jefferson here speaks of the character of Washington, as if it had been impaired, and his popularity diminished by some act of a vicious or censurable nature:—'with whom his character is still popular.' It would be difficult to find any of the people with whom he was not at all times popular. Demagogues and candidates for office are the sole exceptions. It was certainly a daring scheme to attempt to obtain the Presidency by the destruction of the character of GEORGE WASHINGTON, by a SECRET system of insinuation and slander, imputing the most detestable treasons to the purest and noblest of mortals!

ITEMS.

Williamsport, Wash. Co., July 29.

DIED—At about half past five o'clock this evening, of Cholera, Mr. JOHN EVANS, of this Borough. Mr. E. was by occupation a glass blower; he went to work this morning, and at nine o'clock was taken very suddenly ill, and after enduring the most agonizing pains, departed this life at half past five. Our physicians agree in pronouncing this a decided case of Asiatic Cholera.—Patriot.

ALAS, POOR M'KEAN.—The Pennsylvanian thinks our next U. States Senator will be one of the following persons:—Duane, Dallas, Henry Horn, Buchanan, or Muhlenburg. Either of them will do. They are all good—none better.—Blairsville Rec.

A NEW LOAN.—A Smithfield drover, who found much trouble with his flock, applied to his comrade—"Dang it mon, these sheep won't drive nowise! DO LEND US A BARK OF YOUR DOG, will ye?"

"We have been struck with alarm—we had almost said dismay—at the disposition, recently shown by some persons of intelligence and high respectability in this quarter, to encourage projects having in view the immediate abolition of slavery. It is not unnatural that reckless and unprincipled adventurers, who can only acquire consequence in times of trouble and confusion, should set such projects on foot; but it is melancholy enough, that men who have a large share in the preservation of the public tranquillity, and who act habitually upon full deliberation, and with the best motives, should be so far deluded by a few specious phrases, as to lend their names and influence."

In reference to this, the Richmond Enquirer says—

"We at once frankly call upon our editorial brethren in Boston to say, how far this statement of the N. A. Review is correct—and what proportion these "some persons of intelligence and high respectability in that quarter, may be estimated to be."

The Enquirer is right in this interrogation.—When the answer shall be frankly given, it will be seen that the dismay of the N. A. Review is at least premature.—Nat. Gaz.

A letter, dated Camden, South Carolina, July 16, says—

"The prospects of our planters are very good for large crops of Cotton, and we believe it will come into market sooner than ever before known. Cotton will be sold in Camden in August."

The President of the United States left Washington City on Friday, the 26th ult., in the steamboat Columbia, on a visit to the Rip Raps, the fortified artificial island near Old Point Comfort.

Flourishing condition of the Treasury.—The Pennsylvania Reporter says—The amount of money in the State Treasury, is above five hundred and seventy five thousand dollars, most of which has been collected since the first of February last.

A puppy, named Spencer, was sentenced to thirty days imprisonment in New York, at the last term of the Special Sessions, for assaulting a respectable lady in the street, about nine o'clock in the evening.

It is calculated that the profits of the British crown, from the sale of quack medicines, amounted, during the last year, to nearly £50,000.

Died, on Saturday, the 27th instant, in the 60th year of his age, Commodore WILLIAM BAINBRIDGE, of the U. S. Navy.—Pouls. July 29.

From the best information we can obtain, there are about 2,300 tons of castings manufactured and sold in this city, and about 1,250 tons imported and sold here—making in all 3,550 tons.—Niles.

Founders of Colleges.—Who ever heard of a liberally educated man who was not the hearty, devoted supporter of every judicious common school system? Such an anomaly our country has not yet produced. Our most illustrious patriots and sages have been the founders of colleges, and apostles in the cause of universal freedom.

It is no uncommon thing, in our country, for men of considerable influence to boast that they have never seen the inside of a college—that, like Franklin and Washington, they have advanced in knowledge and reputation by their own unassisted efforts; and, consequently, that colleges are good for nothing, or, at best, fitted only for the training of drones and blockheads. Now, besides the extreme modesty of recording their own names upon the same tablets with Franklin and Washington, they might be reminded that those truly great men never uttered such a boast, and never decried such institutions. Franklin was the father of the University of Pennsylvania, and Washington endowed a college in his native state. No man, therefore, will ever give any very convincing evidence that he resembles Franklin or Washington, by a supercilious affectation of contempt for colleges, or by a narrow, invidious, systematic, malignant hostility towards them.—President Lindsey on Education.

Allegheny College, Meadville.—This institution has been taken under the patronage of the Pittsburgh Conference of the M. E. Church, and will be opened for the reception of students, on the first Monday of November next. It will be perceived that Dr. Rheuter at present officiating in the Methodist congregation's of this place, has been appointed as principal of the resusciated institution.

The following gentlemen have been selected Professors, viz: Rev. Martin Rheuter, D. D., President of the Faculty and Professor of Moral Science; Rev. Homer J. Clark, A. M., Vice President and Professor of Mathematics; and Augustus W. Rheuter, A. B., Professor of Languages.—Pittsburgh Times.

Foul Casks.—Foul pails, tubs, or casks, intended for butter or any other purpose, may be cleansed by putting in some bran, indian meal, or flour, and filling up with water; a fermentation will take place which will perfectly cleanse the vessel. The liquid is the better for hogs after undergoing fermentation; consequently there is no expense attending the process.—Mechanics' Mag.

The arrangement made for rechartering the Bank of England has produced at once the most beneficial effects. According to all the London accounts, "the favorable result of this important question has given a fresh impulse to the commercial and moneyed affairs of England. Confidence being restored, the funds rose, money was plenty, and business was moving on with healthy action." Similar would be the effects, in the United States, of the renewal of the charter of our National Bank, with the modifications of which the case is susceptible. However the "malign influences" may endure at Washington, we cannot abandon the hope that President Jackson will yield, on this subject, to the wish of the country as it is likely to be expressed by the majority of Congress. It has been maintained uniformly by the Whig party of England, that the King has no right to make his personal conscience the law of the State. We should doubt whether a President of our Republic has a right to make his personal opinion the law (and a law of destruction) in opposition to the judgment and desire of the majority of the People, of which, under all circumstances, another decision of Congress in favor of the Bank, might well be deemed the certain voice. One of President Jackson's predecessors, a truly wise and upright man, yielded constitutional scruples on a similar occasion.—Nat. Gaz.

Iron.—It is not only our own opinion, but we are confirmed in the belief, by many with whom we have conversed, that the manufacturing of castings is brought to greater perfection in Albany, than in any other place in this country, and we may add, even Europe. The Hollow Ware of Bartlett, Bent & Co. is preferred to the best "Scotch Hollow Ware"—the stoves of Dr. Nott receive the preference wherever they are known, and the machinery castings of Many and Ward, and others, are equal to those of any foundry in the world.

The amount of castings consumed in this section of the country may be judged of by the following facts:

Bartlett, Bent & Co.	do	do	350 "
I. & J. Townsend,	do	do	300 "
Rathbone & Silliaman,	do	do	200 "
Many & Ward,	do	do	450 "
Total,			2,300 tons

About 1000 persons obtain their support from the employment derived from these establishments.

In addition to the amount of Irons melted here, Messrs. Heermans, Rathbone & Co. sell annually 750 tons stove plates (from Philadelphia) and Gill, Cooper & Co. about 300 tons from the same place.

From the best information we can obtain, there are about 2,300 tons of castings manufactured and sold in this city, and about 1250 tons imported and sold here—making in all 3,550 tons.—Albany Daily Advertiser.

Extracts from the Philadelphia Market, ending Saturday evening, July 27, 1833.—Collected for the United States Gazette, from actual sales.

COTTON.—The imports of Cotton for the past week amount to 68 bales from Richmond, 883 bales from New Orleans, and 16 bales coastwise; total 967 bales. The market is very firm and the stock quite reduced, and some holders are unwilling to sell at our present quotations. The accounts from Liverpool to June 8th, received in the beginning of the week, caused sellers to raise their rates full one half cent per lb. The accounts per Packet ship President from London of the Liverpool market to 12th June, were also received of a favorable nature, quoting a further advance. We note sales of 31 bales stained Mississippi Cottton at 15 cents 4 months; 100 bales good N. Orleans at prices not reported; 146 do do at 16 cents 4 months; & 350 bales S. C. and Georgia at 14 a 15 1-2 cents 4 months.

FLOUR.—The market for Superfine Flour is completely at a stand. No sales of any consequence have been made during the week, we quote superfine fresh ground nominally at $6 00, though we have been informed that $5 87, and probably $5 75 would not be refused for large parcels, holders are anxious to sell and very few shippers showing any disposition to purchase. There have been no sales on the Schuylkill side.

BRANDYWINE MILLS FLOUR.—A parcel of 700 brls. of this description was sold early in the week at $6 50.

RYE FLOUR—Is dull, sales have been made at $3 75 and 100 brls. sold at a trifle less.

GRAIN.—Some little alteration has taken place in the grain market; corn has come in rather more freely, and has improved a shade, sales of yellow have been made at 64 a 66 cts. and of white at 63 a 64 cts. and of Pa. round 65 a66 cts. with a tendency to be still better. Wheat we quote nominally at $1 17 a $1 20, and Rye dull at 34 cts.; Oats have been sold in Market st. at 30 cts. No sales of cargoes reported. The sales of grain on the Schuylkill side have also been very limited. A cargo of corn early in the week brought 64 cts. and 2 cargoes of Oats at 35 cents, the same description was offered on Thursday at 32 cts.; no sales of wheat made, the asking price is $1 25, & for Rye 78 cents.

IRON.—Juniata rolled 82 1-2 a 85; Pennsylvania hammered 77 1-2 a 82 1-2; American Pig Iron 33 a 35; English and Scotch 42 1-2 a 45; American Sheet Iron $1 50; English do 140 a 145; Boiler Plates, first quality $155.

SUGARS.—The demand for most descriptions of sugars continues animated, and an improvement in prices noted, with a tendency to improve still further. We quote sales of 150 hhds. Porto Rico sugars, at 7 1-2 a 9 cts. 4 mos.; 140 boxes white Havana, terms not reported; a small parcel do brown, at 8 1-4 cts. on time; 147 hhds. good fair New Orleans sugar at 8 cts. 4 mos.; and St. Croix, 9 a 9 1-4 cents, 4 months.

Wool.—The demand for wool still continues; good at an advance on last week's prices. We have to report sales of about 3000 prime western fleeces, at supposed 80 cts. on time; 10,000 lbs. from common fleeces to prime Saxony, highest quotations 500 lbs. tub washed and low grade, at 43 1-2 a 61 cts. 4 mos. and 8,500 lbs. fleece and prime Saxony, also at full prices.

Freights to Pittsburgh per wagon, $2 25
Do. Wheeling, do. 2 25

Extracts from the Review of the Louisville Market, July 27.

Bacon.—Hog round is selling at 7 cents from stores, and 6 a 6 1-2 cents from wagons, which is an advance on our last quotations. We notice a sale of 35 hhds. assorted bacon, at 6, 7, and 9 cents.

Cotton.—The cotton market is very unsettled, and we again advance our quotations, and quote Alabama and Tennessee at 14 a 15 cents; Mississippi and Louisiana at 15 a 16 cents. A sale of 50 bales Alabama and Tennessee at 14 1-2 cents.

Sugar.—We have no particular change to notice in this article. Small country sales continue to be made at our quotations. White Havanna sugar is selling at 13 1-2 cents; Brown, at 10 and 11 cents. We have heard of sales of 30 bbls. N. Orleans, at 8 1-2 cents; 20 do. at 9 cents, and 60 bbls. loaf sugar at 14 1-2 and 15 cents.—Louisville Price Current.

PROSPECT HILL
PITTSBURGH, Pa.

ON the 1st of July, Mr. DANIEL STONE intends opening, near the City of Pittsburgh, an Institution for the instruction of boys. Its plan is to combine, as far as possible, the peculiar advantages of a domestic and public education.—The pupils, with the principal and assistants, will constitute one family, and be at all times under careful supervision. The Discipline will be mild, but strict, such as a father, solicitous for the welfare of his children, would exercise over them. It is believed that an appeal to reason, and the sense of honor and duty, will generally secure obedience. Coercive measures will, therefore, be adopted only in extreme cases.

The Course of Study will embrace the English, Latin, Greek, and French Languages; Arithmetic, Algebra, and Geometry; Geography and History—Ancient and Modern; Rhetoric, Composition, and Elocution; Natural Philosophy and Chemistry; Penmanship, Orthography, and Reading. Frequent examinations will be held, open to the friends and relations of the youths.

The Mode of Instruction will be thorough and critical, and no subject will be relinquished until fully understood. That the scholar's mind may become vigorous, active, and self-confident—prepared for the stern conflicts of life, and a fearless discharge of its duties, he will be encouraged to reason and decide for himself.

Each student will be required to attend such church as his parent or guardian shall designate.

To preserve health and elasticity of spirits, to check indolence, and promote industry among the students, they will be daily exercised in athletic sports.

Pupils will be admitted between the ages of Six and Sixteen. None can be received for less than one term.

The uniform Dress will consist of a cap, blue roundabout, with metal buttons, and blue pantaloons. Every article of clothing should be marked with the owner's name in full.

The Terms are two hundred dollars a year, payable quarterly in advance. This includes Tuition, Board, Lodging, Washing, Mending, Light, and Fuel.

The Vacations, after the present year, will be three—the 1st, of two weeks, from the 3d Wednesday in April; the 2d, of four weeks, from the 2d Wednesday in August; and one week at Christmas.

The Matron's department will be under the care of Mrs. Reynolds, of this city.

The building has been substantially erected, by those well known Mechanics, Messrs. Roseburg, Reynolds, Scott, & McCulloch, after a plan drawn by John Haviland, Esq., of Philadelphia, whose justly acquired fame as an Architect will be increased by the style and Beauty of the Present Edifice.

A first rate London Artist has been employed, for the last three months, in preparing the Dresses especially for this Theatre, which, in point of

THE SCENERY

Has been designed and executed by Mr. J. R. Smith, a young Artist of great talent, and whose productions may challenge comparison with those of the most distinguished Scene Painters of the day.

MECHANICAL DEPARTMENT

Shew Virtue her own features;
Vice her own image;
The age and body of the time, his form and pressure."

And he throws himself confidently on the liberality of the citizens of Pittsburgh for support.

THE Subscriber has the satisfaction to say to the public, and his friends, that he has connected with his other business, the manufactury of Mill and Cross Cut Saws; and can furnish supplies to merchants and others: he believes them to be equal to any ever used in the western country—the experience of the workmen employed, with the known good qualities of the steel, justifies him in warranting the article to any who may be disposed to patronize western industry.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞WELCH MEDICAMENTUM.☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes givingt emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in all cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the farm on which he lives, in Washington county, on Pigeon creek, one mile south of Williamsport, on the Monongahela river, to which there is a perfectly level road. This farm contains near 400 acres, the greater part of which is first rate land. There is on the premises a Brick Dwelling House, a Merchant mill, in good repair, a new saw mill, a stone still house, 35 by 40 feet; a salt works is also in operation, and worked to advantage; about 150 acres of land cleared and under good fence. There is on the premises three small tenements for the accommodation of families. This tract is well timbered, and abounds with stone coal and springs of water, both of the best quality.

For further particulars, apply to James P. Stuart, Merchant, Wood street, Pittsburgh, or to the subscriber on the premises.
